

Momere's Donuts

Hint: for best results, use a heavy kettle with straight sides which do not curve inward at the top.

Ingredients:

2 eggs	2 tbs melted butter
1 generous cup sugar	3 ½ - 4 cups flour
Scant tsp salt	2 tsp baking soda
½ tsp nutmeg	1 tsp baking powder
½ tsp ginger	Olive oil (for the frying)

¾ Cup Milk – I use one small can of evaporated milk with enough water to make 6 ounces.

Method:

Beat 2 eggs, adding 1 generous cup of sugar, scant tsp salt, ½ tsp nutmeg and ½ tsp ginger.

Mix in 2 tbs melted butter. Add ¾ milk. (I use one small can of evaporated milk with enough water to make 6 ounces.)

Stir in 3 ½ - 4 cups flour with 2 tsp baking soda and 1 tsp baking powder.

Generously flour a cutting board, and roll dough about ¼" thick. Cut out the donuts; let stand until all are cut.

Fry in 2"- 3" of olive oil, preheated to about 375°. (The temperature can be tested by dropping a small bit of dough into the oil. If it bubbles and comes to the top almost right away, the oil is probably hot enough.)

When the donuts come to the top, turn at once and then again quickly. Fry until well-browned, turning every so often until done. This will take about 1 ½ - 2 minutes.

Drain on paper toweling with donuts on EDGE, not flat.
